THE INTERNATIONAL RESTAURANT BOULEVARD®

V-Key Pals at MES-English.com

Materials to prepare:

- MES-Café menu, and advertisement for each group or student
- One MES-Café picture for class discussion
- enough of the "choose your restaurant sheet" as required
- paper for write-ups and creating menus
- final draft sheet for each group or student

Steps:

- Show the MES-Café picture as introduction.
- Ask questions such as what it is a picture of, what kind of food do they serve, what's the inside like, where they think the restaurant is located... to start discussion.
- Ask what they would serve, where they would like to open a restaurant, what would be the best thing they serve.
- Hand out the MES-Café menu and have the students look it over. Answer any questions they may have (but I don't explain everything, just what they ask about.)
- Ask them what they want to order from this restaurant and how much their order is.
- Brainstorm a list of ideas for appetizers, drinks, main dishes, side dishes, and desserts.
- Give out the 'choose a restaurant sheet' and have the students start to make their own restaurant.
- They must decide a name, place, and make a menu with prices.
- Have the students visit other restaurant and choose their order.

For more advanced students

Follow ups:

- List the ingredients for each of the items on the menu.
-  Write up a description/advertisement for the restaurant to pass around town. Use the MES-Café advertisement as an example.
- Create a role-play to act out
- Create a commercial for the restaurant

Finally:

- Use the word doc. file or a form of your choice to write up their reports and send them into MES-English.com v_keypals@mes-english.com for everyone to use and share. I will post them on the website and add the students restaurant to the International Restaurant Boulevard.

MES-Café

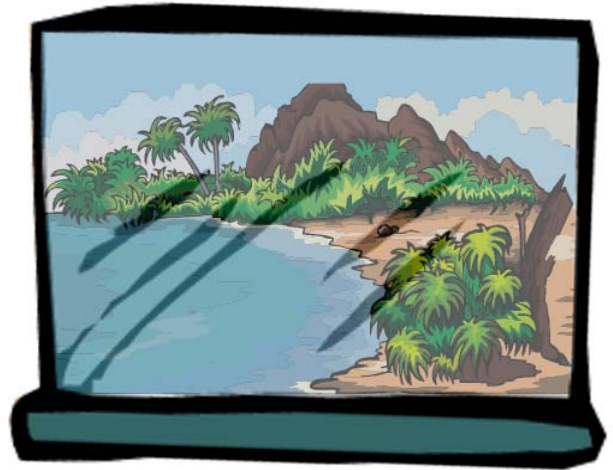

13 Beach Street
Hawaii, USA

Owner: Mark Cox

The MES-Café is on Beach Street in Hawaii. In the restaurant, there are 15 tables. There is a big window. You can see the beach.

There are some tables outside, too.

You can eat outside. There are 2 waitresses and 2 waiters. They are very nice. There are 2 cooks and they are the best cooks in the world.

The food is very good. You will love it!

The MES-Café has appetizers, salads, sandwiches and lunch combinations.

The French fries are better than other restaurants'. If you are very hungry, the lunch combination is good. If you are a little hungry, the sandwiches are good. When it is hot, the milk shakes are the best!

Please come to MES-Café.
